CRUELTY TO PRISONERS IN PITTSBURG. Ex-Convicts Make Serious Charges Against

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 6.—The investigation of the charges made against Dr. Maharneke, of the Western Penitentiary in this city, has resulted in the developing of some very sensational facts.

At the close of the session last night Dr. Maharneke was suspended by Warden Wright until the end of the investigation. An ex-convict, J. W. Miller, better known as " Shoe Box," was sworn and said that by Dr. Maharneke's orders he had taken a boy Dr. Maharneke's orders he had taken a boy named Thompson, nicknamed "Gip," and dipped him into an ice-cold bath.

Then he scrubbed his back with a broom until the flesh was exposed. Dr. Maharneke, he said, was an eye-witness to this cruelty.

Again the boy was ducked until he fainted, and the doctor laughed with glee.

A number of convicts testified that the floctor took patients who were in the hospital, gagged them and applied an electric battery to them until they fainted from pain.

He was also seen to strike prisoners with his fist, and has used his position to extort money from them.

Prisoner James Wylie swore that while he was in the hospital Dr. Maharneke put him Prisoner James Wylie swore that while he was in the hospital Dr. Maharneke put him in a strait-jacket while his (Wylie's) head was bleeding from a boil.

The doctor said: "I will cure or kilt you." He had also been strapped to the bed.

The investigation will likely be taken up by the Legislature, and the indications are that it will result in the removal of every official at the Pemtentiary.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 6 .- A host of asylum rustees, managers and superintendents appeared before the Assembly Judiciary Committee this afternoon. They went to knock out Tur EVENING WORLD'S bill to give the parents of little children unjustly committed to the care of ocieties and other guardian institutions a chance to recover them and prevent their de portation to Western farms.

Mr. Gerry, the prime mover in the opposition to the bill was unable to be present, as his little son, eleven years old, is very ill with pneumonia.

Mr. Robert Ray Hamilton, who has the bill in charge, said before the meeting of the Committee that he had no set speech ready.

SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. 1 PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. C .- It appears that everything is not as pleasant in this branch of the Salvation Army as it might be since Mrs. John L. Sullivan has been recruited. .

"Capt. Howland has never spent any time at my house except when he was taken sick on his way home with us from church.
"At that time he was intending to take supper at my house and was taken with fearful pains in the stomach, and we were all positive that some of his enemies had put poison in a pitcher of water from which he drank.

"I left the church last Sunday when Capt. Howland spoke of meeting his mother in heaven, and Mrs. Howland asked if he would meet Mrs. Sullivan there.

"It is not right for Mrs. Howland to say such things about me, and I am going to give her a chance to repeat her statement in court."

It is stated by some of the residents of the village that Gen. Moore, commander of the Salvation Army with which Howland claims to be connected, has pronounced him a frand and disclaims any responsibility for his actions.

In regard to the poisoning matter, many people are ready to testify to having water from the same pitcher, and some intimate that Howland's illness arose from intoxication.

Then Mr. Cleveland heaved a sigh, pulled his chronometer from his pocket, and apologizing, exensed himself.

He stepped into a carriage and was whirled away to the station of the Pennsylvania Railway, where he found Mrs. Cleveland under escort of Col. Dan Lamont.

Passage had been secured on the train for New York, and the party of three arrived in Jersey City at 7,30 this morning, or forty minutes late.

They were driven directly to the Victoria, where they had breakfast in their apart-

"Is it true, Mr. Hoyt," asked an Evenino World reporter, "is it true that the errand of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland in New York today is to look at apartments in the Gerlach or elsewhere?"

"Not at all. What their errand is I may not tell you, but it is not to look for a place to live," replied Mr. Hoyt.

A member of the law firm with which Mr. Cleveland will be associated called on the President, and they conferred together for more than an hour.

Coi. Lamont was not visible to man during the morning. It is understood that the party will return to Washington this evening.

The President was looking much better than when on his last visit to the city, during the recent campaign, and Mrs. Cleveland was as adorably lovely as heart could wish.

A few unidentified callers sent up their cards to the President's apartments during the day.

Mr. Charles W. Bangs, of the law firm of Bangs, Stetson, Tracy & MacVeagh, was at his office, No. 45 William street, this morning When asked if there were any further derangements between his firm and President Cleveland, who will become its counsel after the expiration of his term of office, he said:

"The matter was concluded some time ago and the Washington desnatch that has already been published in The Eveniso Would gives all the details that we desire to have made public.

"Mr. Cleveland has become a member of the firm and will make his headquarters here as soon as he conveniently can after he leaves Washington."
